Course Description

This course is a survey of state and local government and politics with special reference to the constitution and politics of Texas. The course focuses on the federal institutional framework of the United States and the institutions, political behavior, and policies of the states.

The course will consist of three main sections: political institutions, public opinion and political behavior, and public policy. Throughout the course, we will explore questions such as: What are the differences in the separation-of-powers system among the states? Which state institutions differ from those in the federal constitution? Why do some states elect judges, contrary to the federal model? Do states have different political cultures? How do American states differ in their approach to public policy?

At the end of the course, we will compare and contrast the U.S. federal system with other examples across the world at the national (e.g. Canada, Brazil, Germany, etc.) and supranational levels (European Union).

Course Prerequisites

None.

Special Course Designation

This is a CORE (Pol Sci) course.

Course Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- Identify the main features of the U.S. federal system and its main relevant institutions and actors.
- Explain the constitutional development of the United States.
- Critically evaluate the interactions between federal, state, and local governments and the role of political actors.
- Explore the main issues in states' economic and social policy agendas.
- Contrast institutional aspects of the U.S. federal system with comparative examples.

Textbook and/or Resource Materials

There is one required textbook for this course, which is available at the TAMUQ library and other vendors (you can get the electronic version):

- Gray, Virginia, Hanson, Russell L., & Kousser, Thad. (2017). Politics in the American States: A Comparative Analysis. 11th Edition. SAGE Publications, Inc. [Denoted as Textbook].

All other readings and materials will be posted by the instructor on Canvas, as specified in the class schedule below. Assigned readings should be done before the respective week.

Grading Policy

Evaluation Criteria

Your grade will consist of the following components:

- 1) Midterm Exam 30%
- 2) Final Exam 35%
- 3) Short Paper 20%
- 4) Participation 10%
- 5) Attendance 5%

- 1) Midterm Exam. There will be a midterm exam on Week 7 (October 5th) covering the content from the first half of the course (weeks 1-6). The exam will be administered in class and will consist of multiple-choice, short-response, and fill-in-the-blank questions. You will not have access to your notes or book/readings. The midterm exam will contribute 30% towards your final grade.
- 2) Final Exam. There will be a final exam covering the content from the second half of the course (weeks 7-15). The exam will consist of multiple-choice, short-response, and fill-in-the-blank questions. You will not have access to your notes or book/readings. The midterm exam will contribute 35% towards your final grade. The date and time of the final exam will be announced during the semester and will take place between December 5th–11th.

- 3) Short Paper. You will write a short paper where you will compare and contrast the institutions, electoral behavior, and policy orientation of two U.S. states. The paper will contribute 20% towards your final grade. A more detailed description of this assignment along with a grading rubric will be provided on Canvas. The paper should be 2-3 pages long, double-spaced, and use 12-point Times New Roman font. The paper should be uploaded on Canvas. See class schedule below for due date.

- 4) Participation. Your participation grade will be based on your engagement in class discussions and activities. Specifically, you are expected to read the assigned readings before each week so you can actively participate in class, and participate in the polls, quizzes and other activities assigned. I may ask you to complete some polls and online quizzes before class to use for specific activities. Failure to complete these polls and quizzes will affect your participation grade. Participation will contribute 10% towards your final grade.

- 5) Attendance. You are expected to attend class. An attendance sheet will be distributed during every class. You are allowed one unexcused absence during the semester. Please let me know in advance if you need to miss class for an excused reason. Attendance will contribute 10% towards your final grade.

Grading Scale

Letter grades will be determined in the following way:

A+ = 97-100	B+ = 87-89	C+ = 77-79	D+ = 67-69
A = 93-96	B = 83-86	C = 73-76	D = 63-66
A- = 90-92	B- = 80-82	C- = 70-72	D- = 60-62
			F = <60

Grading Policy Changes

Regrade requests must be made within one week after your graded assignment has been returned and must be submitted with a written statement of at least 150 words via email to alexhoneker@tamu.edu. This statement should explain why you think the grade should be changed. Remember that, after re-evaluating your work, your grade may remain unchanged or be adjusted in either direction. There will be no grade changes after the final exam.

Late Work Policy

Late assignments will be penalized with a 5% reduction in the grade per day unless you provide a documented medical excuse.

Course Information Items

Technology Support

Students can direct their technical questions to servicedesk@qatar.tamu.edu.

Learning Resources

Students should contact the Center for Teaching and Learning at ctl@qatar.tamu.edu for questions related to learning support, peer tutoring, supplemental instruction, writing support, etc.

Science Learning Support (SLS)

The Science Learning Support within the Division of Arts and Sciences provides a variety of services to support the academic success of all students at Texas A&M at Qatar.

Peer tutors are available to support their peers in achieving their academic goals. Students are welcome to book free one-to-one or group appointments to reinforce their learning outside class, gain confidence and develop study skills in chemistry, physics, math, and fundamental engineering courses. Walk-ins are also welcome! Visit the Science Learning Support website to find out more about their student support services and how to register or book an appointment.

Supplemental Instruction (SI) sessions are also offered for select subjects. Led by SI leaders who will typically reach out to students in specific supported courses, these sessions provide an opportunity for students to think critically about challenging concepts, solve practice problems, and apply various learning strategies in an interactive environment. Please get in touch with joelle.fadlallah@qatar.tamu.edu for assistance and further information.

University Policies

Attendance Policy

The university views class attendance and participation as an individual student responsibility. Students are expected to attend class and to complete all assignments. Please refer to Student Rule 7 in its entirety for information about excused absences, including definitions, and related documentation and timelines.

Makeup Work Policy

Students will be excused from attending class on the day of a graded activity or when attendance contributes to a student's grade, for the reasons stated in Student Rule 7, or other reason deemed appropriate by the instructor. Please refer to Student Rule 7 in its entirety for information about makeup work, including definitions, and related documentation and timelines. Absences related to Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 may necessitate a period of more than 30 days for make-up work, and the timeframe for make-up work should be agreed upon by the student and instructor" (Student Rule 7, Section 7.4.1). "The instructor is under no obligation to provide an opportunity for the student to make up work missed because of an unexcused absence" (Student Rule 7, Section 7.4.2). Students who request an excused absence are expected to uphold the Aggie Honor Code and Student Conduct Code. (See Student Rule 24.)

Academic Integrity Statement and Policy

"An Aggie does not lie, cheat or steal, or tolerate those who do."

"Texas A&M University students are responsible for authenticating all work submitted to an instructor. If asked, students must be able to produce proof that the item submitted is indeed the work of that student. Students must keep appropriate records at all times. The inability to authenticate one's work, should the instructor request it, may be sufficient grounds to initiate an academic misconduct case" (Section 20.1.2.3, Student Rule 20).

You can learn more about academic integrity and your rights and responsibilities at Texas A&M University at Qatar by visiting the Aggie Honor System website.

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Policy

Texas A&M University is committed to providing equitable access to learning opportunities for all students. If you experience barriers to your education due to a disability or think you may have a disability, please contact the Disability Resources office on your campus (resources listed below) Disabilities may include, but are not limited to attentional, learning, mental health, sensory, physical, or chronic health conditions. All students are encouraged to discuss their disability related needs with Disability Resources and their instructors as soon as possible.

Disability Services is located in the Engineering Building, room 318C or at +974.4423.0316 or visit <https://www.qatar.tamu.edu/students/student-affairs/disability-services>.

Title IX and Statement on Limits to Confidentiality

Texas A&M University is committed to fostering a learning environment that is safe and productive for all. University policies and federal and state laws prohibit gender-based discrimination and sexual harassment, including sexual assault, sexual exploitation, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking.

With the exception of some medical and mental health providers, all university employees (including full and part-time faculty, staff, paid graduate assistants, student workers, etc.) are Mandatory Reporters and must report to the Title IX Office if the employee experiences, observes, or becomes aware of an incident that meets the following conditions (see University Rule 08.01.01.M1):

- The incident is reasonably believed to be discrimination or harassment.
- The incident is alleged to have been committed by or against a person who, at the time of the incident, was (1) a student enrolled at the University or (2) an employee of the University.

Mandatory Reporters must file a report regardless of how the information comes to their attention – including but not limited to face-to-face conversations, a written class assignment or paper, class discussion, email, text, or social media post. Although Mandatory Reporters must file a report, in most instances, a person who is subjected to the alleged conduct will be able to control how the report is handled, including whether or not to pursue a formal investigation. The University’s goal is to make sure you are aware of the range of options available to you and to ensure access to the resources you need.

Texas A&M University at Qatar students wishing to discuss concerns in a confidential setting are encouraged to visit the Health and Wellness website for more information.

Students can learn more about filing a report, accessing supportive resources, and navigating the Title IX investigation and resolution process on the University’s Title IX webpage.

Statement on Mental Health and Wellness

Texas A&M University recognizes that mental health and wellness are critical factors that influence a student's academic success and overall wellbeing. Students are encouraged to engage in healthy self-care by utilizing available resources and services on your campus

Texas A&M University at Qatar students wishing to discuss concerns in a confidential setting are encouraged to visit the Health and Wellness website for more information.
